PRESS RELEASE

Ingo Devices launches the Moshi Monsters 7" Tablet Premium

London, June the 26th of 2013.- Ingo Devices, and international electronics manufacturer focusing in the kids license toy markets, launches the Moshi Monsters 7" Premiun Tablet.

The tablet is packed with features like a double camera, wifi and the Ingokids parental control software that allow parents to closely monitor child activity and set restrictions on web access and time allowed with the tablet.

The Ingo Moshi Monsters tablet comes packed with goodies like wallpaper and pictures, Moshi music videos, Moshi magazines and Moshi apps. The Moshi Monsters tablet will be available from July for £119.99.

Also available is the Moshi Monsters accessory pack. This contains a carry bag, over ear headphones (child safe) to listen to your music and a stylus pen just for £49.99.

Ingo Devices has the exclusive rights to Moshi Monsters for the development of electrical products for children, like tablets, digital cameras, camcorders, MP3, DVD and accessories.

About Ingo Devices

Ingo Devices, established in 2007, is a global company that specializes production, distribution and trade of children electronic devices with kids licenses and Ingo own label. Pioneering in the licensing market, the company has launched in the market products that combines the latest technology in electronic devices, the development of apps with the top international kid's licenses .The Company headquarter are based in Barcelona (Spain) with four other international offices with sales in excess of half million units of Tablets (Ingo, Monster High or Hello Kitty), DVD players, digital cameras, MP3 and accessories, all with the best licenses as Minnie Mouse or Peppa Pig for example.

For more information:

MCS (on behalf of Ingo Devices)

Mónica Fidelis

Telf. + 34 93 362 08 40 / + 34 618 745 023

mfidelis@1990mcs.com