Ingo Devices releases its new web 2.0

Ingo Devices, an international electronics manufacturer focusing in the kid's license toy markets, announces -in line with the strong growth and consolidation of the Ingo Brand in Europe- the release of its new website, www.ingodevices.com

The new website has been designed for the customers and fans to ensure they are able to find out all of the information, images and video tutorials relating to the products that Ingo Devices distribute around Europe. They will find all of the exciting and updated product information as well as being able to easily share them using the share option included on all of the pages.

The users can navigate with an intuitive menu both by product category (tablets, accessories, cameras, etc.) and by brand (Hello Kitty, Monster High, Minnie Mouse, Peppa Pig, Hotwheels, Moshi Monsters, Violetta and Ingo).

Ingo Devices has now a common scheme and corporative image on all 2.0 spaces of the website and blog, as well as Facebook, Twitter, Google+, Pinterest and YouTube accounts.

About Ingo Devices

Ingo Devices, established in 2007, is a global company that specializes in production, distribution and trade of children's electronic devices with kids licenses and Ingo own label. Pioneering in the licensing market, the company has launched in the market products that combine the latest technology in electronics and the development of apps with the top international kid's licenses. The Company's headquarters are based in Barcelona (Spain) with four other international offices with sales in excess of half a million units of Tablets (Ingo, Monster High or Hello Kitty), DVD players, digital cameras, MP3 and accessories, all with the best licenses as Minnie Mouse or Peppa Pig.

For more information:

MCS (on behalf of Ingo Devices)

Mónica Fidelis

Telf. + 34 93 362 08 40 / + 34 618 745 023

mfidelis@1990mcs.com